

Testing Accommodations and Requests Policy and Form

In adherence to the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA, 1990), reasonable and appropriate accommodations are provided for qualified individuals with disabilities who supply appropriate documentation. GPCI follows the guidelines set forth in the Council on Licensure Enforcement and Regulation (CLEAR) and National Commission for Certifying Agencies (NCCA) Principles of Fairness.

A “qualified individual with a disability” is one who has a disability and satisfies the requisite skill, experience, education, and other requirements of the service, program, or activity for which he or she is being measured and, with or without accommodations, can perform the essential functions of the service, program, or activity. An essential function is one that individuals are required to perform, and removing that function would fundamentally change the service, program, or activity. A person must be a “qualified individual with a disability” to be protected under the ADA.

Reasonable accommodations provide candidates who are disabled with a fair and equal opportunity to demonstrate their knowledge and skill in the essential functions being measured by the examination. Reasonable accommodations are decided on the basis of the individual’s specific request, disability, documentation submitted, and the appropriateness of the request. Reasonable accommodations do not include steps that fundamentally alter the purpose or nature of the examination. Requests may involve providing the candidate with extended time, a reader, a writer, and/or a separate room. These requests must be based on documented need related to the candidate’s disability.

Testing Accommodations Request

The candidate must submit the GPC Exam Testing Accommodations Request Form to the GPCI Exam Committee at the time of eligibility application packet submission to the candidate’s test administration to the address below. The Accommodations Request Form must include a letter or other documentation from a licensed physician, optometrist, social worker, psychologist or other appropriate professional (including title, credentials, address, and telephone number on his/her letterhead). This letter should describe the nature of the functional limitation as it applies to taking a standardized, multiple-choice examination and written examination, and the specific accommodations needed for testing. If approved by the GPCI Exam Committee, these accommodations will be provided at no additional charge to the candidate.

The GPCI Exam Committee will review the Accommodations request and inform the Candidate in writing within fifteen (15) calendar days of receipt of the Examinations Testing Accommodations Request Form.

Right to Appeal

The Candidate may appeal an accommodations decision if any or all of the requested accommodations are not approved. The candidate must complete the GPC Exam Testing Accommodations Appeal Form within fifteen (15) days of receipt of notification of the Testing

Accommodations decision following the date on which the adverse decision was emailed to the appellant. Any individual who does not file an appeal request within the required time limits shall waive the right to appeal.

The GPCI Board will review the Appeal and inform the Candidate in writing within fifteen (15) calendar days of receipt of the Examinations Testing Accommodations Appeal Form. If necessary, the Candidate's testing window will be extended by the number of calendar days during which the Examinations Testing Accommodations Request Form and/or the Examinations Testing Accommodations Appeal Form are reviewed prior to decisions.

Requests for Accommodations and Appeals must be made to GPCI:

Required Supporting Documentation

Testing accommodation requests must be accompanied by documentation from a licensed physician, optometrist, social worker, psychologist or other appropriate professional. Supporting documentation must be attached to this request form. Documentation must include a rationale for the need for the accommodation(s).

Specifically, documentation must be provided through a detailed signed letter on letterhead and/or report(s) that indicate a clear and specific rationale for the need for testing accommodations and specific recommendations for testing accommodations. Non-specific recommendations such as “extra time” are not acceptable. Examples of specific recommendations include 50% additional testing time, large font, or testing in a separate room.

Please submit requests and documentation to the GPCI Board:
