

Reclassification of Exam Items

Each item undergoes an extensive review by SME's other than the original authors for content accuracy, relevance and appropriateness.

The psychometrician also reviews all items for technical qualities and confirmation that the item writers has adhered to best psychometric best practices and the principles that are appropriate for the item type and outlines during the item writing training.

Editorial experts then review items for grammatical accuracy and consistency, appropriate formatting and adherence to other required guidelines.

Items are reviewed for their relevance, their correctness and their defensibility as well as their appropriateness to the target audience.

Finally, all items are mapped and matched to cognitive levels and competencies to meet the test blue print while minimizing errors or inconsistencies.
